Singapore, January 2001

My dear friend Peter,

After five years with the Netherlands Foreign Investment Agency in Singapore as well as with the Royal Dutch Embassy I will return to the Prime Minister's Office in the Netherlands.

With this letter I would like to thank you for the good relation we kept over the years. Thanks to your support, NFIA could employ its activities in Singapore and in the other countries in Southeast Asia and I could build on the network of industrial and technology ties between Singapore and the Netherlands. I will treasure and relish the privilege of having met you. Thank you for your friendship and for your business contacts.

Singapore was a wonderful country to live and work. I will miss the culture of professionalism and the aim for excellence that certainly will affect my new adjustment back in the Netherlands.

My successor in Singapore in the Science and Technology Office in the Embassy will be Mrs Drs. Marjet Thomas-Dekker. I hope she will receive the same support and assistance from you as you have given me over the past years, I feel sure she will continue to improve the expansion and strengthening of science and technology cooperation between companies in Singapore and in the Netherlands.

By separate mail you will receive an invitation for a farewell party on February 15, 18.00 hrs. Please note the date in your agenda.
